STAN J. CATERBONE Video re PUBLIC STATEMENT AND STATE-OF-AFFAIRS

Saturday December 26, 2020

Stan Caterbone

This is Stan j Caterbone at 1250, Fremont Street, nice to Pennsylvania 1763. It's 8:30am. On Saturday, December 26 2020, the day after Christmas, I'm going to give an update to the state of affairs of my targeting. I'm going to start by tracing the targeting back to 1986, when I was building Financial Management Group now culminated in 1987, when I blew the whistle on ISC, on after the meeting of June 23 1987, and after I was developing and building the first digital movie with Tony Bogiovi and POWER STATION STUDIOS [New York City].

Now at that time, before the meeting, I was also going commercial lending. And we were lending we were bidding on lending people, developers money from all over the country for projects of three to $100 million. So all that was a stake. And that's what man I'm township police, virtually rescue me for steal my own files out of my own office, confiscated my airplane illegally. And in September 2 1987, the man on constant pleas filed five felonies and four misdemeanors against me. And I see at the time was going through a merger with fronte, a defense contractor in England. And in March 1988, after the merger was completed, all the charges were dismissed.

So I'm tracing the targeting back to that time. Now, before that, of course, it can be traced back to MK Ultra, my father in the Navy, and his targeting in 60s by the likes of city police, and my targeting now by the ninth City Police. That's a common denominator. And it's hard to get away from the fact that my father was a victim of MK Ultra, the CIA mind control, as well as my brother Sammy with the LSD experiments in the Air Force. Now, this past year 2020 really opened up the information regarding some of these programs cointelpro that are illegal, yes, sponsored mind control, that targeting using microwave weapons and things of that nature.

There are several high profile whistleblowers that came forward this year with illuminating information. Dr. Robert Duncan, the scientists who work on these weapons specific weapons that target me, with DARPA, the CIA and a host of other people down there was CIA whistle blower Barbara Hartwell, who was CIA and she ran the psyops programs for the CIA, not all of them, but some of them. She was a psyops operative. Now she came forward last year, I think in October of 2019. Then there's Karen Stewart, of course, he's been a whistleblower for the NSA. And now we've got a problem and that being people are trying to get Julian Assange and Edward Snowden and reality winner other whistleblowers that are imprisoned. Snowden is not in prison, but he's in Solomon, Russia. They're trying to get them pardoned now by Trump. And Trump's going to come out with more high level pardons in the following weeks.

Now Julian Assange, his target, and he's being tortured just the way I am on a he's in prison over in London. And the United States is trying to extradite him back here and charging and committing to prison for 175 years. So all this has culminated around me, especially with my complaints the United Nations dating back to 2009. Now, the past month or so, the targeting against me has escalated. The break ins the vandalism of faster computer hacking, the stalking, and harassment, especially by 1252, Fremont, 1236, and 1242. It's all stepped up. It's all as Dr. Robert Duncan would say on steroids. So I'm giving this update today, December 26 2020, Saturday, the day after Christmas.

Now, of course, I've got litigation going on in several courts. I'm in the US Supreme Court. My case against Lancasters county prison goes back to the US Supreme Court justices on January 8 2020. Now I followed a 2021. I filed a motion for reconsideration when they denied my my most recent petition to you State Supreme Court. So I'm in litigation, your Supreme Court. I'm also in litigation in Second Circuit Court. Regarding another NSA case where I'm moving on the case, you can look at the docket. Then of course I still have a pending I'ma kiss down in Florida and Broward County for the Nicholas Cruz case.

That doesn't count all my other cases that are still active and open, including catamaran versus Duke Street. And then last kind of court of Common Pleas case Oh 813373 was judge Miller presiding. And that is where I follow the exhibits. Now regarding the technology, the technology using microwave satellites, whatever you want to call it with synthetic telepathy and torture regarding pain and things like that, and moving hands and things like that is so well documented today, and it's being broadcast by major news outlets. The problem is the city of Lancaster County last year want to continue this phony fabricated mental illness rap that began in 1987.

Now as far as the fabricated stalking charges, in 2017, in 2019, that I'm on probation for 15 years, until I'm 77, which is the death date, the age My father died, which is very convenient. We I'm trying to do things to get those charges dismissed which need to be dismissed sooner or later. And and above itself, I need relief. I need financial relief in the courts. I need relief from the stalking from the harassment from the computer hacking. I'm in litigation. Every time people come in here and delete files or modify files. That's obstruction of justice. This has to stop. Anyway, I could go on for hours. It's now 8:39am. Saturday, December 26 2020. I'm in my basement, Home Office bedroom, bathroom, laundry room at 1230 Fremont Street, Lancaster, Pennsylvania 17603. This is Stan j Caterbone. And the advanced Media Group. You have a good day. Goodbye

Gaslighting - From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Gaslighting is a form of psychological manipulation in which a person or a group covertly sows seeds of doubt in a targeted individual, making them question their own memory, perception, or judgment, often evoking in them cognitive dissonance and other changes such as low self-esteem. Using denial, misdirection, contradiction, and misinformation, gaslighting involves attempts to destabilize the victim and delegitimize the victim's beliefs. Instances can range from the denial by an abuser that previous abusive incidents occurred to the staging of bizarre events by the abuser with the intention of disorienting the victim.

Characteristics

Gaslighting involves a person, or a group of persons, and It can be either conscious or unconscious, and is carried out covertly such that the resulting emotional abuse is not overtly abusive.[\[10\]](#)

Gaslighting depends on "first convincing the victim that his thinking is distorted and secondly persuading him that the victimizer's ideas are the correct and true ones".[\[1\]](#):45 Gaslighting induces cognitive dissonance in the victim, "often quite emotionally charged cognitive dissonance",[\[11\]](#) and makes the victim question their own thinking, perception and reality testing, and thereby tends to evoke in them low self-esteem and disturbing ideas and affects, and may facilitate development of confusion, anxiety, depression and in some cases even psychosis.[\[1\]](#):33–34 After the victim loses confidence in their mental capacities and develop a sense of learned helplessness,[\[12\]](#) they become more susceptible to the victimizer's control.[\[1\]](#):34 Victims tend to be people with less power and authority.[\[13\]](#):7

The role of either victimizer or victim can oscillate within a given relationship, and often each of the participants is convinced that they are the victim.[\[14\]](#) When a group of people acts as the victimizer, gaslighting does its damage through the group members' "small, often invisible actions that have power through their accumulation and reinforcement".[\[15\]](#) Gaslighting has been used by individuals and groups for "attaining interpersonal and social control over the psychic functioning of other individuals and groups".[\[1\]](#):6

The illusory truth effect, a phenomenon in which a listener comes to believe something primarily because it has been repeated so often, may occur to a victim during gaslighting.[\[12\]](#)

BACKGROUND

I am a Federal Whistleblower and in 1987 I met with Executives of an International Arms dealer named International Signal and Control, PLC., or ISC, headquartered in my hometown of Lancaster, Pennsylvania. I at the time was a shareholder and I was solicited to finance some problematic operations through financial firm that I had founded, Financial Management Group, Ltd., In 1991 they were indicted for the third largest fraud in the United States, a $Billion Dollar Fraud, when they merged with Great Britain's largest Defense Contractor, Ferranti International, Plc., in 1987. In 1987 I was arrested for literally stealing my own files from my own office and faced 4 felonies and 3 misdemeanors with prison terms in the tens of years. After the merger was completed in December of 1987, all of my charges were dismissed by the Lancaster County District Attorney's Office in March of 1988. ISC Board Member, Bobby Ray Inman, who was former Secretary of the Navy and former Director of the National Security Agency, or NSA was nominated to be Secretary of Defense for Bill Clinton. He later had to withdraw his name after allegations of ISC began to surface. In 1991 Ted Koppel and the Financial Times of London broadcast 3 different segments disclosing that ISC was essentially a black ops program of the NSA and CIA and tried desperately to derail the nomination for Director of the CIA, Robert Gates, who they allege was involved in the early stages of the program. He was named Director of the CIA and later served as Secretary of Defense for George W. Bush and now President Barrack Obama. ISC responsible for developing the Cluster Bomb, and Saddam Hussein was a loyal customer.

In the late 1980's and early 1990 I was a contractor for several government agencies, including DARPA, the Defense Advanced Research Project Agency of the Department of Defense. My company Advanced Media Group had conducted business all over the world, including some 15 or more foreign countries. DARPA IS WIDELY KNOWN AS A DEVELOPER OF MIND CONTROL TECHNOLOGIES AND HOLDS PATENTS. DARPA is also credited for developing the internet. I was an expert in optical publishing and my company was one of only 4 or 5 that had the capability to manufacture CD-ROM's in the domestic United States.

Now, I am a prisoner of the "state" and have been since 1987, and that the activities surrounding the my life has escalated into a daily occurrence of assaults. I have been a victim of organized stalking since 1987 and a victim of electronic and direct energy weapons since 2005. I had also been telepathic since 2005. In 2005 the U.S. sponsored mind control turned into an all-out assault of mental telepathy; synthetic telepathy; and pain and torture through the use of directed energy devices and weapons that usually fire a low frequency electromagnetic energy at the targeted victim – computer hacking, vandalism and thefts to home and automobile. This assault was no coincidence in that it began simultaneously with the filing of the federal action in U.S. District Court, or CATERBONE v. Lancaster County Prison, et. al., or 05-cv-2288.

In March of 2016 I was detained by some 8 NSA Security Police, handcuffed, and interrogated for about 2 hours at NSA Headquarters in Ft. Meade, Maryland. In 2005 I was detained by 2 DIA, or Defense Intelligence Agency of the Department of Defense, in Austin Texas and interrogated for almost 2 hours. Both incidents I was sent on my way without any explanation as to WHY?

Unfortunately while I have made many in person complaints to just about every law enforcement agency, including several meeting with FBI in Philadelphia and Harrisburg, the pleas for help and assistance have yielded nothing but more attacks to my person, property, electronics, home, auto, reputation, intellectual property, and lastly his mental state-of-mind – A BRUTAL ARRAY OF PSYCHOLOGICAL TORTURE. I have already has already made claims of COINTELPRO-like tactics in his filings in the U.S.C.A. Case No. 16-4014 against these same said actors and perpetrators. Now just today I filed in U.S. District Court in the MIDDLE DISTRICT of Pennsylvania a new HABEUS CORPUS PETITION in hopes of gaining my freedom.

The Surreptitious Reincarnation of COINTELPRO with the COPS Gang-Stalking Program

- August 22, 2016
- Written by Rahul D. Manchanda, Esq. (See Biographical Resume Below)

In 1975 Senator Frank Church convened a joint senatorial/congressional inquiry into the egregious human rights and civil liberties violations of the Central Intelligence Agency ("CIA"), National Security Agency ("NSA"), as well as the Federal Bureau of Investigation ("FBI") against people both foreign and domestic. Such blatant transgressions included the "neutralization" and "elimination" of political dissidents, "enemies of the state," real or imagined threats to National Security, and anyone else on the proverbial shit list of the Military Industrial Complex ("MIC").

The Church Committee was the United States Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities, a U.S. Senate committee chaired by Senator Frank Church (D ID) in 1975. A precursor to the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, the committee investigated intelligence gathering for illegality by the aforementioned agencies after certain activities had been revealed by the Watergate affair.

Some famous examples which have since emerged include: (1) the FBI sending letters to Martin Luther King Jr encouraging him to kill himself or else they would tell the world about his sexual proclivities; (2) the planned or successful assassinations of foreign leaders such as Fidel Castro, Patrice Lumumba, and countless other South American, Middle Eastern or Asian leaders; (3) the wholesale undermining of entire foreign economies if they democratically elected someone at odds with the elite power structure deep state of the United States such as what occurred against Salvatore Allende of Guatemala; (4) the possible assassination of John F Kennedy; (5) revelations of Christopher Pyle in January 1970 of the U.S. Army's spying on the civilian population; (6) the December 22, 1974 New York Times article by Seymour Hersh detailing operations engaged in by the CIA over the years that had been dubbed the "family jewels," involving covert action programs involving assassination attempts against foreign leaders and covert attempts to subvert foreign governments were reported for the first time; (7) efforts by intelligence agencies to collect information on the political activities of US citizens; and (8) countless other examples, both overseas and domestically.

The end result of the Church Committee Hearings was the outright banning on CIA assassinations as well as the FBI/DOJ COINTELPRO gang-stalking programs. In 1975 and 1976, the Church Committee published fourteen reports on various U.S. intelligence agencies' formation, operations, and the alleged abuses of law and of power that they had committed, with recommendations for reform, some of which were later put in place.

Among the other matters investigated were attempts to assassinate other foreign leaders such as Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, the Diem brothers of Vietnam, Gen. René Schneider of Chile, and Director of CIA Allen Dulles's plan (approved by President Dwight Eisenhower) to use the Sicilian Mafia to kill Fidel Castro of Cuba.

Under recommendations and pressure by this committee, President Gerald Ford issued Executive Order 11905 (ultimately replaced in 1981 by President Reagan's Executive Order 12333) to ban U.S. sanctioned assassinations of foreign leaders.

Together, the Church Committee's reports have been said to constitute the most extensive review of intelligence activities ever made available to the public. Much of the contents were classified, but over 50,000 pages were declassified under the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act of 1992.

The Church Committee learned that beginning in the 1950s, the CIA and FBI intercepted, opened, and photographed more than 215,000 pieces of mail by the time the program was shut down. The Church report found that the CIA was zealous about keeping the US Postal Service from learning that mail was being opened by government agents. CIA agents moved mail to a private room to open the mail or in some cases opened envelopes at night after stuffing them in briefcases or coat pockets to deceive postal officials.

On May 9, 1975, the Church Committee called CIA director William Colby. That same day Ford's top advisers (Henry Kissinger, Donald Rumsfeld, Philip W. Buchen, and John Marsh) drafted a recommendation that Colby be authorized to brief only rather than testify, and that he would be told to discuss only the general subject, with details of specific covert actions to be avoided except for realistic hypotheticals. But the Church Committee had full authority to call a hearing and require Colby's testimony. Ford and his top advisers met with Colby to prepare him for the hearing.

The Ford administration, particularly Rumsfeld, was "concerned" about the effort by members of the Church Committee in the Senate and the Pike Committee in the House to curtail the power of U.S. intelligence agencies. It seemed that Rumsfeld et al was comfortable giving the power to arbitrarily destroy anyone as "enemies of the state" by anyone working in the IC and MIC.

COINTELPRO (COunter INTElligence PROgram) was a series of covert and illegal projects conducted by the FBI aimed at surveilling, infiltrating, discrediting, and disrupting domestic "political dissidents."

FBI records show that COINTELPRO resources targeted groups and individuals that the FBI deemed subversive, including anti Vietnam War organizers, activists of the Civil Rights Movement or Black Power movement (e.g., Martin Luther King, Jr. and the Black Panther Party), feminist organizations, anti colonial movements (such as Puerto Rican independence groups like the Young Lords), and a variety of organizations that were part of the broader New Left.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover issued directives on COINTELPRO, ordering FBI agents to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, discredit, neutralize or otherwise eliminate" the activities of these movements and especially their leaders. Under Hoover, the agent in charge of COINTELPRO was William C. Sullivan.

Tactics included anonymous phone calls, IRS audits, and the creation of documents that would divide their targets internally.

After the 1963 March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom, Hoover singled out King as a major target for COINTELPRO. Under pressure from Hoover to focus on King, Sullivan wrote: "In the light of King's powerful demagogic speech, we must mark him now, if we have not done so before, as the most dangerous Negro of the future in this nation from the standpoint of communism, the Negro, and national security."

The Final Report of the Select Frank Church Committee blasted the behavior of the intelligence community in its domestic operations (including COINTELPRO) in no uncertain terms:

"The Committee finds that the domestic activities of the intelligence community at times violated specific statutory prohibitions and infringed the constitutional rights of American citizens. The legal questions involved in intelligence programs were often not considered. On other occasions, they were intentionally disregarded in the belief that because the programs served the "national security" the law did not apply. While intelligence officers on occasion failed to disclose to their superiors programs which were illegal or of questionable legality, the Committee finds that the most serious breaches of duty were those of senior officials, who were responsible for controlling intelligence activities and generally failed to assure compliance with the law. Many of the techniques used would be intolerable in a democratic society even if all of the targets had been involved in violent activity, but COINTELPRO went far beyond that - the Bureau conducted a sophisticated vigilante operation aimed squarely at preventing the exercise of First Amendment rights of speech and association, on the theory that preventing the growth of dangerous groups and the propagation of dangerous ideas would protect the national security and deter violence."

According to attorney Brian Glick in his book War at Home, the FBI used four main methods during COINTELPRO:

(1) Infiltration: Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off potential supporters. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents;

(2) Psychological warfare: The FBI and police used myriad "dirty tricks" to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents, and manipulated or strong armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists. They used bad jacketing to create suspicion about targeted activists, sometimes with lethal consequences;

(3) Harassment via the legal system: The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretext for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminatorily enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, "investigative" interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters;

(4) Illegal force: The FBI conspired with local police departments to threaten dissidents; to conduct illegal break ins in order to search dissident homes; and to commit vandalism, assaults, beatings and assassinations. The object was to frighten or eliminate dissidents and disrupt their movements.

The FBI specifically developed tactics intended to heighten tension and hostility between various factions in their targeted groups and individuals, and this resulted in numerous deaths, among which were San Diego Black Panther Party members John Huggins, Bunchy Carter and Sylvester Bell.

While COINTELPRO was officially terminated in April 1971, critics allege that continuing FBI actions indicate that post COINTELPRO reforms did not succeed in ending COINTELPRO tactics.

ENTER THE "COPS" FEDERAL AND STATE SANCTIONED GANG-STALKING PROGRAM

"Community Oriented Policing," ("COPS") is a strategy of policing that focuses on police "building ties and working closely with members of the communities," and originated in 1994 when then Senator Joseph Biden wrote and then President Bill Clinton enacted the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act ("VCCLEA") establishing the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services ("COPS") within the US Department of Justice.

Community policing is supposedly a policy that requires police to engage in a "proactive approach" to address public safety concerns, and is a cornerstone of the Clinton Administration, gaining its funding from the 1994 Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act.

Common implementations of community policing include: (1) relying on community based crime prevention by utilizing "civilian education," neighborhood watch, and a variety of other techniques, as opposed to relying solely on police patrols; (2) restructuring the patrol from an emergency response based system to emphasizing proactive techniques such as foot patrol; (3) increased officer accountability to civilians they are “supposed to serve;” and (4) decentralizing police authority, allowing more discretion amongst lower ranking officers, and more initiative expected from them.

In other words, federal and state sanctioned and approved GANG-STALKING.

Gang Stalking has been described as fascism, using East Germany style “Stasi Tactics,” a systemic form of control, which seeks to control every aspect of a “Targeted Individual’s” life. Gang Stalking has many similarities to workplace mobbing, but takes place outside in the community, where the target is followed around and placed under surveillance by groups of organized civilian spies/snitches 24/7, 365 days a year. Targeted Individuals are harassed in this way for months or years before they realize that they are being targeted by an organized program of gang-stalking harassment. This is very similar to what happened to many innocent individuals in the former East Germany or activists and dissidents in the former Soviet Union. Many innocent people in the former East Germany would be targeted for these harassment programs, and then their friends, family, and the community at large would be used to monitor, prosecute, and harass them. In the former USSR it was used by the state to target activists, political dissidents, or anyone that the Secret Police thought was an “enemy of the state,” or as “mentally unfit,” and many were institutionalized or murdered using this form of systematic control.

In Bill Clinton’s COPS Gang-Stalking Program, civilian spies are recruited from every segment of society, and everyone in the “targets” life is made a part of this ongoing, continuous, and systematic form of control and harassment, with such actions that are specifically designed to control the target and to “keep them in line,” like a Pavlovian Dog. These actions are also designed to mentally, physically, emotionally, spiritually, financially, socially, and psychologically destroy the target over years, to make them appear to be crazy, and leave them with no form of support, whatsoever.

For the targets of this harassment, COPS Gang Stalking is experienced as a covert psychological, emotional and physical attack that is capable of immobilizing and destroying a target over time. For the state, it is a way to keep their targets in line, control them, or ultimately destroy them.

This modern day systematic form of control is funded at the highest levels of government, just like it has in other societies where these similar types of harassment programs have been implemented.

Targets can be chosen for many reasons: (1) political views; (2) whistle blowing; (3) political dissidence; (4) asserting rights at work; (5) making the wrong enemy; (6) too outspoken; (7) investigating something that the state does not want investigated; (8) signing a petition; (9) writing a letter; (10) being “suspicious” by a civilian spy/snitch; or (11) being a religious/ethnic/racial minority.

The goal of the COPS state sanctioned organized gang-stalking program is to isolate the target from all forms of support, so that the target can be set up in the future for arrest, institutionalized, or forced suicide. Other goals of this harassment are to destroy the targets reputation and credibility, and to make the target look “crazy” or unstable.

The process often involves sensitizing the target to every day stimuli’s as a form of control, which is used to control targets when they “get out of line.” Targets of this harassment become vulnerable and destitute, and often become homeless, jobless, have a breakdown, are driven to suicide, similar to targets of the banned COINTELPRO. The government eliminates perceived “enemies of the state” in this manner.

When a target moves or changes jobs, the harassment continues.

Every time the target moves, the same defamation, lies, libel, and slander will be spread, and the systematic harassment will continue. Online defamation, libel, and slander on the internet has made this continuation of COPS gang-stalking a great deal easier.

People from all segments of society can be recruited to be the “eyes and ears” of the state, such as laborers, drug dealers, drug users, street people, prostitutes, punks, church groups, youth groups, your best friend, your lawyer, local policeman, doctor, emergency services, a neighbor, family, social workers, politicians, judges, dentists, vet, supermarket cashier, postman, religious leader, care worker, landlord, anyone.

Most of these recruited civilian spies/snitches do not understand or even care that the end consequence of this harassment protocol is to eventually destroy the targeted person, and function as “useful idiots” of the state sanctioned COPS gang-stalking program.

It has been reported that people participate in this COPS gang stalking because it: (1) gives them a sense of power; (2) is a way to make friends; (3) is something social and fun; (4) breaks down race/gender/age/social barriers; (5) is forced or blackmailed upon them by the State or police to take part; (6) is told to them that they are part of “homeland or national security” to help keep an eye on “dangerous” or “emotionally disturbed” individuals where they are “heroic spies for the state;” (7) is used on local thugs or informants who are already being used for other activities where their energies are diverted into these COPS gangstalking community spy programs; (8) is either a choice of spying for the State or police, or else go to jail; (9) involves outright lies and slander about the target to get them to go along with ruining the targets life; (10) includes average citizens recruited by the state the same way citizens were recruited in the former East Germany and other countries.

Some techniques used against targets in this organized COPS Gang-stalking program include: (1) classic conditioning where a target is sensitized to everyday stimuli over a period of months and years to harass them in public to let them know they are constantly being harassed and monitored; (2) 24/7 Surveillance following the target everywhere they go, learning about the target and where they shop, work, play, who their friends and family are, getting close to the target, moving into the community or apartment where they live, across the street, monitoring the targets phone, house, and computer activity; (3) isolating the target via defamation, libel, and slander campaigns, (eg, people in the target’s community are told that the target is a thief, into drugs, a prostitute, pedophile, crazy, in trouble for something, needs to be watched, false files will even be produced on the target, shown to neighbors, family, store keepers); (4) constant or intermittent noise and mimicking campaigns disrupting the targets life and sleep with loud power tools, construction, stereos, doors slamming, etc; (5) talking in public about private things in the target’s life; (6) mimicking actions of the target and basically letting the target know that they are in the target’s life; (7) daily interferences, not too overt to the untrained eye, but psychologically degrading and damaging to the target over time; (8) everyday life breaks and street theater such as flat tires, sleep deprivation, drugging food, putting dirt on targets property; (9) mass strangers doing things in public to annoy targets such as getting called/text messages to be at a specific time and place to perform a specific action; (10) blocking targets path, getting ahead of them in line, cutting or boxing them in on the road, saying or doing things to elicit a response from the target; (11) “baiting” tactics where a surveillance operation can selectively capture evidence of a targeted person responding to harassment, and then that evidence could then be used to justify the initiation of more formal scrutiny by a government agency.

The COPS Gang-Stalking Program, as all other state sanctioned/approved gang-stalking programs, have always been funded by the Government. They are the only ones with enough money, coordination, and power to keep such a system in place. These coordinated efforts then join hands with others for this systemic form of control and harassment.

Such operations have nothing to do with the target’s criminality - they are led and perpetrated by federal agents and intelligence/security contractors, often with the support of state and local law enforcement personnel. Unofficial operations of this type are often private investigators and vigilantes – including many former agents and police officers, sometimes on behalf of corporate clients and others with connections to the public and private elements of America’s security industry.

The goal of such operations is “disruption” of the life of an individual deemed to be an enemy (or potential enemy) of clients or members of the security state. Arguably, the most accurate term for this form of harassment would be “counterintelligence stalking.”

Agents of communist East Germany’s Stasi (state police) referred to this process as Zersetzung (German for “decomposition” or “corrosion” – a reference to the severe psychological, social, and financial effects upon the victim). Victims have described the process as “no touch torture” – a phrase which also captures the nature of the crime: cowardly, unethical (and often illegal), but difficult to prove legally, because it generates minimal forensic evidence.

Tactics include online and personal slander, libel, defamation, blacklisting, "mobbing" (intense, organized harassment in public), "black bag jobs" (residential break ins), abusive phone calls, computer hacking, framing, threats, blackmail, vandalism, "street theater" (staged physical and verbal interactions with the minions of the people who orchestrate the stalking), harassment by noises, and other forms of bullying.

Such stalking is sanctioned (and in some cases, orchestrated) by federal agencies; however such stalking is also sometimes used unofficially for personal and corporate vendettas by current and former corrupt employees of law enforcement and intelligence agencies, private investigators, and their clients.

Since counterintelligence stalking goes far beyond surveillance – into the realm of psychological terrorism, as it is essentially a form of extrajudicial punishment. As such, the harassment is illegal – even when done by the government. It clearly violates the US Constitution's Fourth Amendment, which prohibits unwarranted searches, and the Sixth Amendment which guarantees the right to a trial. Such operations also violate similar fundamental rights defined by state constitutions. Stalking is also specifically prohibited by the criminal codes of every state in America.

As was stated above, organized stalking methods were used extensively by communist East Germany's Stasi (state police) as a means of maintaining political control over its citizens. Although this is supposedly illegal in the US, the same covert tactics are quietly used by America's local and federal law enforcement, and intelligence agencies, to suppress political and domestic dissent, silence whistle blowers, and get revenge against persons who have angered someone with connections to the public and private agencies involved.

Although Edward Snowden's revelations about the National Security Agency ("NSA") in 2013 and 2014 generated a great deal of public discussion about mass surveillance, US domestic counterintelligence activities such as the COPS Program receive relatively little attention.

The FBI's COINTELPRO operation is still happening, involving even more advanced surveillance technology - and this program is none other than Joseph Biden and Bill Clinton's COPS Program.

US Department of Justice crime statistics from a 2006 survey indicated that an estimated 445,220 COPS gangstalking victims reported three or more perpetrators (the only ones reported), and this number is growing exponentially on a daily basis.

In addition to being morally reprehensible, the COPS gang stalking program, just like the original version of the FBI's COINTELPRO operations, is very, very illegal. It violates criminal laws in all fifty states against stalking, as well as grossly violates the US Constitution's prohibitions against warrantless searches and extra judicial punishment.

While the vast majority of Americans are never personally targeted by the Joseph Biden/Bill Clinton COPS gangstalking program, they should still be concerned about the existence of such operations.

Even if such activities were constitutionally legitimate (which they are not), they still have an enormous potential for abuse as a personal or political weapon by enemies currently employed or friendly with these governmental institutions.

Ending this cowardly and illegal practice by law enforcement agencies, intelligence agencies, and their parasitic corporate and individual recruits will first require exposing what is happening, to the public.
